

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the printing trade in the United States has contributed much to improve the American way of life through the use of the printed word; and

WHEREAS, commemoration should be made of this 264th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, January 17, 1706, in Boston; and

WHEREAS, Franklin was a printer in early life, and on his retirement from the printing business, he devoted the remainder of his life to serving his country as a diplomat, inventor, scientist, and, primarily, a patriot; and

WHEREAS, January 11-17, 1970, has been designated as the 42nd Annual Printing Week throughout the United States, and it will be observed by the printing plants in South Dakota:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Frank Farrar, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week January 11-17, 1970, as

and do hereby call upon the citizens of the state to appropriately pay tribute to the memory of Benjamin Franklin, one of America's foremost printers and statesmen.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota to be affixed.
